IN SOUTHERN OHIO!

is the store of Morris Sternberger, Jackson, O. He keeps everything you may need in way of Ready-made Clothing. Call on MORRIS STERNBERGER, Cor. Main & Broadway, Jackson, Ohio.

THE DAILY STANDARD.

SATURDAY, --- SEPTEMBER 24, 1881.

Miss Maggie Martin started this morning to Cincinnati, to attend the exposition.

Mrs. Longbon and Sam started for Cleveland last evening.

Grass is showing up nicely, after the recent rains, but more rain is needed yet.

Miles Jones' buggy was upset yesterday at the Fair Ground, by being run into by another buggy.

The Band boys tendered their services for the meeting on Monday.

Stella Martin, daughter of David Martin, was run over by a horse, yesterday, near the residence of Mr. Pickrel, and considerably bruised.

Monday will be the "deadest" day seen in Jackson for a long time, as regards business of all kinds.

There has been some talk of the Furies in Jackson stopping on Monday. Why not stop?

While W. F. Hale was exercising his mare at the Fair Grounds yesterday, a wheel came off the sulky, and Hale was violently rolled out, bruising him some.

The Fair yesterday, taken as a whole, was a slim affair—not to say an utter failure. It will be "nip and tuck" between expenses and receipts, and it is quite probable that "nip" will capture "tuck."

JAMES HENRY, who owns the property now occupied by Cash Pugh, as a restaurant, is tearing out the old frame dining-room, and intends to build up a brick building in its stead. A good idea.

We have been informed that Mr. Bundy will probably not be able to attend the services on Monday. We trust he may be able to come, however. We understand he is away from home.

On account of the disability of the senior editor, and the amount of office work devolving upon the junior, we were unable to attend the fair regularly, and therefore cannot go into particulars. We have been informed that it was not a success, financially. It is said that the entire receipts were less than $300.

Charles W. Adams, the printer has been studying the lives of Job and Lazarus. Charley has boils enough for a whole regiment, but is wrestling with them successfully.

REPUBLICANS need have no fears of any great revolution in the Administration of the Government under President Arthur. He is one of the ablest men in the country, is possessed of fine executive ability, is a tried and true Republican, and it is scarcely to be doubted that he will take up the affairs of Government where Garfield laid them down, and keep things moving along smoothly, and for the best interests of the whole country.

Sternberger to the Front!

Our young friend Morris Sternberger is bound to be in the lead in the Clothing business. Morris' Fall and Winter Stock is complete. There is no excuse for any one being poorly clad during the coming winter. Morris' Clothing is within the reach of all. Call at his great Clothing Emporium, corner of Main and Broadway streets.

We wish to do the Democrats full justice. We believe the great body of them, all over the United States, are honest in their professions of grief and sorrow over the murder of the President. We know it is so with nearly all of them in this town, and in this county; but Democratic speakers who publicly uttered lies about Garfield last Fall, and Democratic editors who willfully, and knowingly, and maliciously, published forgeries and libels on the great and good man now lying dead, should be modest, and take back seats.

The Assassin Guiteau!

This wretch is taking things quietly in his cell. It is thought that he is preparing his defense. The case is very complicated, and many able lawyers claim that he cannot be convicted of murder, in the District of Columbia. An attempt will be made to take him to New Jersey for trial under the laws of that State. Then, according to the bulletins and autopsy report of the physicians themselves, it can be clearly proven that the great President did not die from the effects of the murderer's shot, but from ignorance and malpractice on the part of the learned doctors. It is a complicated case.

Elder Jones, who has often preached in Jackson, will officiate at the funeral of President Garfield, at Cleveland, on Monday. He was Chaplain of Gen. Garfield's regiment in the army.

Yes, "God reigns, and the Government at Washington still lives," and President Arthur has announced his purpose to do his utmost to carry on the Government as nearly as possible after the manner Garfield had mapped out.

It is a serious question whether it is worth the trouble to attempt to keep up County Fairs in this county. We have thought for years that it was more the mistakes of the management, than the fault of the farmers, and other citizens of the county, that our Fairs have been going down. We believe we could take the matter in hand and make it a success, but we may be over-conceited about this matter.

THE Isham House and City Line Transfer Bus carries passengers to any part of the City.

There was a meeting of the citizens on last night at the Court House, to make arrangements for the funeral services on Monday. We were not able to be present.

The young men had a jolly time at the Fair Grounds yesterday afternoon. The track was in good condition for buggy-riding, and that is about all there was to do.

We have now published the Daily STANDARD for four years—1873, 1874, 1880, and 1881. Financially, it has always been a success. In the four years it has cleared over $300. This year, with all our hindrances, it cleared, over and above all expenses, about $80. This does pretty well for three days.

BEN. RIDGWAY, of Wellston, called yesterday. Ben., in the long ago, was one of the STANDARD office force, and is of that political faith that is truly pleasing to all good Republicans.

PRESIDENT ARTHUR has issued a proclamation for an extra session of the Senate to meet October 10th.

REV. W. W. SAWYER, of Cincinnati, will preach to-morrow, at half-past 10, and evening at Baptist Church.

ELDER E. W. LLOYD went to Richmondale, this morning.

THE "Prohibition party" made a start in Wellston, a short time ago. But a lot of kind-hearted men sat down upon it, and killed it.

Clocks Low, at Bedel's.

Parties attending the Fair should be sure to call on Morris Sternberger, the lively Clothing Merchant, corner Main and Broadway. Morris has just such goods, and at such prices, as you want.

Sleeve and Collar Buttons, at Bedel's.

Mont Jones has a barber shop in the Monahan Building, over the store of Colvin & French. Mont is a good barber, and we wish him success.

American Watches, at Bedel's.

Lloyd, the Tailor.

Some days ago John A. Lloyd, the popular Main St. tailor, requested us to call in and examine his goods. We found every variety, color and style of piece goods, in the greatest abundance. He had five hands at work, and they were all as busy as they could be.

Mr. Lloyd went to Cincinnati last week to purchase an additional supply of goods, of the very latest styles, for fall and winter. What he can do with more goods we were at a loss to know, but he said that with his own work, and five assistants, he could use up an immense amount of goods before the winter should set in.

Now we are safe in recommending Mr. Lloyd's work, as he made our fine donation suit last fall, and the fit and workmanship are faultless. Go to Lloyd's for your work.

Mrs. M. A. DuHadway has some rooms to let, at her large building known as the South Street House.

PERSONS who need anything in the Furniture line will do well to call on Louis Dauber, at his new Furniture Store on Broadway Street, (near Isham House) between Main and Water Streets.

Rockford Watch es, at Bedel's.

TO ADVERTISE IN.—Lowest Rates for advertising in 1,000 go-od newspapers sent free. Address GEO. P. ROWELL & CO., 10 Spruce St., N. Y.

He Will Be Elected!

Amid the squabbling of candidates, the sweating and wild gesticulating of the columbian orators, the pledges of "statesmen," and the general confusion of a political campaign, there is always more or less guessing upon the chances of this or that candidate. These guesses are often wild, but the man who guesses that Morris Sternberger will be elected to sell an immense stock of Fall and Winter Clothing, will hit it sure.

Lace Pins, at Bedel's.

PERSONS attending the Fair who need anything in the jewelry line will do well to call on H. A. Bedel, the Jeweler, where they will find a large and well selected stock of Watches, Clocks, Jewelry, Silver Ware, etc., at very low prices.

Mrs. DuHadway now has a fine assortment of Fine Millinery Goods. Those wanting anything in this line, should call upon Mrs. DuHadway before purchasing.
